

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA
COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES

Africana Studies

"The Woman King" Film: Celebrations & Controversies

Guests are invited to join us as we discuss this recent film and the implications of representation, symbolism, history of African slavery and larger significance.

Panelists include:

- Tani Sanchez, Professor of Practice, Department of Africana Studies
- Mikelle Omari Smith-Tunkara, Emeritus Professor, Department of Africana Studies
- Lisa Covington, Inaugural Presidential Postdoctoral Fellow, Africana Studies & Center for Digital Humanities
- Erika Gault, Assistant Professor, Department of Africana Studies
- Moderator: Irene d'Almeida, Emeritus Professor, Department of French and Italian

Date: Wednesday, October 19, 2022

Time: 2:00 PM – 3:30 PM

Zoom Registration or in person: Main Library, Room 112
(Also known as Manuel Pacheco Integrated Learning Center (ILC))

INFO: africana.arizona.edu

Although face coverings are not officially required, we respectfully ask those who attend in person to wear a mask and follow seating that allows for social distancing.

This event is free and all are welcome to attend - refreshments will be provided.